The Public Service Commission (Commission) has determined that its existing rules governing administrative procedures (Rule R746-100) need to be updated, reorganized, and clarified. Rule Summary

6. Summary of the rule or change:

Existing provisions are reorganized and clarified. Specifically, lengthy subsections of text are broken apart and each substantive provision numbered according to the statutory numbering scheme. In addition, the new rule makes some substantive changes to existing provisions and introduces new regulations as follows: 1) definitions and regulations that are set forth in statute are eliminated from the rules; 2) defined terms that are not used again in the body of the rule are deleted from the definition section; 3) the following requests for agency action are defined as informal proceedings: a) an unopposed petition for a certificate of public convenience and necessity; b) an unopposed request for acknowledgment or approval of a telecommunications utility's name change; and c) an unopposed request for acknowledgment or approval of a merger, acquisition, or similar organizational restructuring that does not alter or affect the services provided by a telecommunications utility; 4) language that is informational or explanatory, but that does not set forth a requirement or prohibition is eliminated, see Subsection R746-100-3(B)(1), for example; 5) rules governing representation of parties are clarified by reference to the Utah Supreme Court Rules of Professional Practice; 6) rules governing filing of petitions, testimony, etc. are updated to require electronic filing, either by e-mail or through a secure server, except in extenuating circumstances. New language requires specific information in electronic file names, with potential penalties for failure to comply; 7) an existing rule, which requires that a motion to dismiss be filed before a responsive pleading is filed, is deleted; 8) new language establishes the Commission's obligation to comply with the Utah Government Records Access and Management Act; 9) an existing rule, which requires parties to file joint exhibits prior to hearing, is deleted; 10) an existing rule, which allows a non-party to provide sworn testimony subject to cross examination, is deleted; and 11) the rules governing provision of, use of, and access to confidential and highly confidential information are significantly modified, per requests and recommendations of the public utilities that regularly deal with such information.

Aggregate Cost Information

7. Aggregate anticipated cost or savings to:

A) State budget:

Affected: Yes

To facilitate electronic filing, the Commission will incur costs to build a secure, dedicated server. Thereafter, it will cost the Commission $513.82 per month to maintain the server.

B) Local government:

Affected: No

Local governments are not required to enforce or comply with the Commission's rules governing administrative proceedings. No fiscal impact to local government is anticipated.

C) Small businesses:

Affected: Yes

("small business" means a business employing fewer than 50 persons)

Small businesses that participate in administrative proceedings before the Commission will be required to file petitions, testimony, etc. electronically, either by email or through the Commission's secure server. A business that will access the Commission's secure server must provide the Commission with the static public IP address from which information will be sent, as well as an SSH key. In addition, the business must install on its local machine an SFTP client that supports TLSv1.2. Where each affected business has its own unique IT infrastructure, initial set-up costs will vary and cannot be estimated. However, such costs, if any, should be minimal. In addition, this rule filing relieves small businesses of the requirement to provide multiple paper copies of their filings, which will result in savings over time. The Commission does not have data available to calculate the aggregate effect in dollars; however, it is likely that the savings resulting from the electronic filing system will outweigh any initial costs over time.

D) Persons other than small businesses, businesses, or local government entities:

Affected: Yes

("person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, governmental entity, or public or private organization of any character other than an agency)

Affected persons will be required to file petitions, testimony, etc. electronically, either by email or through the Commission's secure server. A person that will access the Commission's secure server must provide the Commission with the static public IP address from which information will be sent, as well as an SSH key. In addition, the affected person must install on its local machine an SFTP client that supports TLSv1.2. Where each affected person has its own unique IT infrastructure, initial set-up costs will vary and cannot be estimated. However, such costs, if any, should be minimal. In addition, this rule filing relieves affected persons of the requirement to provide multiple paper copies of their filings, which will result in savings over time. The Commission does not have data available to calculate the aggregate effect in dollars; however, it is likely that the savings resulting from the electronic filing system will outweigh any initial costs over time.

Compliance Cost Information

8. Compliance costs for affected persons:

To comply, affected persons will be required to file petitions, testimony, etc. electronically, either by email or through the Commission's secure server. An affected person that will access the Commission's secure server must provide the Commission with the static public IP address from which information will be sent, as well as an SSH key. In addition, the affected person must install on its local machine an SFTP client that supports TLSv1.2. Where each affected person has its own unique IT infrastructure, initial set-up costs will vary and cannot be estimated. However, such costs, if any, should be minimal. In addition, this rule filing relieves affected persons of the requirement to provide multiple paper copies of their filings, which will result in savings over time. The Commission does not have data available to calculate the aggregate effect in dollars; however, it is likely that the savings resulting from the electronic filing system will outweigh any initial costs over time.

Department Head Comments

9. A) Comments by the department head on the fiscal impact the rule may have on businesses:

As explained in the rule analysis, businesses that will file records through the Commission's secure server might incur minimal initial set-up costs, which will be offset over time by elimination of the paper filing requirement.

B) Name and title of department head commenting on the fiscal impacts:

Thad LeVar, Chair
