I am a single woman supporting my 23 year old son who is currently out of work. I barely get by paying the bills I already have and if you authorize such a huge increase in my power bill I will have to go without something. I understand that prices must inflate with the economy but the economy is hurting right now. Ask the Rocky Mountain Power officials how much money they take home. I'm sure if the reduced their pay some of that could pay for their shortfall in electricity. Obviously they can afford to put milk on the table.

Thanks.
Pam
