As a rooftop solar owner, please do not increase fees for those who take action to improve the environmental health of Utah. My individual contribution of clean energy may be small, but it's important that we all do what we can to keep our state clean and reduce reliance on fossil fuels.

I already pay a residential fee of $8 each month for the privilege of putting the excess electricity that my panels generate back into the grid. Am I correct in understanding that non-solar customers are only paying a $5 residential fee? That inequity needs to be fixed as well.

Utah is blessed with so much sunshine, please encourage everyone to do what s/he can to use such a powerful clean energy source. Every little bit helps!

Thank you,

Betsy Rickards
