Dear Person,

I understand that the Rocky Mountain Power has requested a raise but hasn't approved. First I am on fixed income so this hurts me financially and many other people. I ask to decline the proposed rate and fee (i.e. tax).

Second, I am trying to keep my electricity decrease as in winter, I don't run electricity more than necessary. I can't squeeze it out more than I already do. SO I do my best and thereby deny an increase.

Third, Utah is the second sunniest state in the country and the among the driest state. This makes sense using solar energy. When I hear about my nieces in New York, not among the driest or sunniest state, install solar energy and not on the grid I am envious. Solar energy is obvious! So decline the proposal.

Perhaps I need to move out of this place.

Sincerely,
Mary Rogan
