Subject: Public Service Commission

Request (Closed): Dear Governor Herbert, On November 9, Rocky Mountain Power filed a request before the Public Service Commission to raise rates on rooftop systems. The fees are among the highest proposed by any utility around the nation on rooftop solar customers. If imposed, the fees would effectively end the growth of the rooftop solar and devastate the solar industry in Utah. The solar industry provides almost 4000 jobs in the state and hundreds of millions of dollars in economic activity. All of which will be negatively affected if these fees are put into place. You only have to look toward Nevada to see the effect. Their commission imposed outrageous fees on owners and overnight hundreds of solar industry jobs were lost. Utah prides itself as a economic development state. Your office has worked hard to cultivate growth and it has paid off. If these fees are imposed one of the fastest growing industries in the state will be greatly harmed. Your leadership on this issue is critical. Thank you for your time.

Thank you.

Subject: Public Service Commission

Request (Closed): 11/22/16 To Governor Gary Herbert Years ago, Rocky Mountain power asked customers to get on board with cleaning up the air in our state, and reducing fossil fuel emissions by promoting wind power. This program is called "Blue Sky" and continues to promote "renewable energy". Even though this does not directly reduce costs of Rocky Mountain's service, it made the appearance that Rocky cared about supporting renewables. With this new round of solar fees and surcharges on the table, it appears that Rocky Mountain does not have this mindset at all. The harsh terms Rocky Mountain seeks to put in place for solar use are such that no one will make the investment in this viable form of residential renewable energy. This de-incentivizes the public from supporting renewable energy, thus keeping us in the grip of polluted air along the Wasatch front and Rocky Mountain's continued use of coal-fired and gas-burning electricity plants. Rocky Mountain had a 400-page justification for raising and levying surcharges on residential solar use with an unbelievable deadline of just two weeks for public comment – until November 22, 2016! How can anyone have time to wade through this voluminous document, make informed remarks and attend a public hearing, if necessary, to voice concerns? Not to mention it was submitted when the country was distracted with the presidential election with the deadline right on the cusp of the Thanksgiving holiday, when people are readying themselves to host family and friends or traveling out of state. One might conclude that this time period was pre-meditated to provide an optimum environment of eschewing public commentary. I understand there is a "second" deadline in June, however, the push for an imminent minimum rate schedule to be put in place for the citizens of Utah who have yet to purchase residential solar panels, could be foul-play. Ultimately, this move by Rocky Mountain is antithetical in making our government body more accountable to the clean air we, the people, are entitled to along the Wasatch front. The people of Utah want our state to be economically viable in renewables in a world increasingly turning to renewable, alternative energy sources. The people of this state do not support Rocky Mountain burning coal and gas to bring electricity to our homes, while those who are actually generating power and giving it back "free of charge" to the grid are levied surcharges for doing so. The absurdity of this is not lost on the thinking public! Forcing us to stay on the grid actually is a red flag to Rocky Mountain – who needs to change their business model, and plan for a future of more and more residential and commercial solar use. Rocky needs to invest in building large storage stations that can handle the amount of increasing solar energy along the Wasatch front. Sincerely, Deb Badger, Ogden, Utah

Thank you.

Subject: Public Service Commission

Request (Closed): Gov. Herbert: In my efforts to be a more environmentally conscientious, as well as thrifty consumer, I recently purchased solar panels that were installed on my home's roof to offset power costs. I have also been informed that Rocky Mountain Power wants to increase rates and/or charge fees for solar power users. To me this simply implies that RMP is afraid of losing money and wants to discourage people from using solar power. If that is true, then the underlying greed and environmental irresponsibility is unacceptable. Alternative energy solutions should be encouraged and available to all, and should not be infringed upon by monopolistic companies like Rocky Mountain Power. If I could cut ties from them completely, I would. Thank you for your time and consideration of my words. Benjamin Edwards Concerned Utah Resident

Thank you.

Constituent Services.
