Judge Reif,

Can you explain what the scheduling conference will entail? Is it just to get a feel for the time needed to be set aside for the official hearing?

We're in the process of contacting all neighbors who will be present, but anticipate that either time will be acceptable for us.

The scheduling conference serves as the basis for the Scheduling Order in the docket. Parties should come prepared to discuss a schedule for the case, including a hearing date, filing dates for testimony or prehearing motions, and a cut-off for intervention of interested parties. Typically, the parties discuss these issues before the scheduling conference and, at the scheduling conference, propose a mutually agreed upon schedule for the Commission to then review and approve or otherwise alter where necessary. Where this does not occur, the scheduling conference takes much longer than it would otherwise, but it still covers all the issues needed to address the deadlines contained in the scheduling order.

Please let me know if you need any further clarification. Also, as a reminder to all parties in this docket, please "reply all" when communicating to the ALJ. That way all parties are privy to the communication(s) taking place and thereby avoiding any appearance of ex parte communication.

Thank you.

As noted by counsel for Eagles Landing Water Company LLC, the 1:30 p.m. time does not work for him or his associate. The 9:30 a.m. time, however, does work.

If it helps clarify things further for complainants, the scheduling conference is not a proceeding on the record. It does not involve making arguments, taking positions, or giving testimony. It is simply an informal meeting to discuss and determine the schedule in the matter. Again, any party may participate by phone.

If the complaining parties are unable to make the 9:00 a.m. time next Tuesday, the Commission will need to set a date after the Thanksgiving holiday, which will further postpone the matter. Counsel for Eagles Landing Water Company LLC has proposed December 3 or 4 as possibilities, and both of those dates are available with the Commission. If either of these dates work with complainants, please advise. Alternatively, if you would like to reconsider the 9:00 a.m. time next Tuesday, please advise. If none of the dates already proposed work, the Commission will schedule this matter and advise the parties accordingly.

Judge Reif,

For the purpose of travel time to Salt Lake, we've decided that the 1:30 timeframe would work better for all those choosing to be at the scheduling conference in person. Thank you.

The scheduling conference serves as the basis for the Scheduling Order in the docket. Parties should come prepared to discuss a schedule for the case, including a hearing date, filing dates for testimony or prehearing motions, and a cut-off for intervention of interested parties. Typically, the parties discuss these issues before the scheduling conference and, at the scheduling conference, propose a mutually agreed upon schedule for the Commission to then review and approve or otherwise alter where necessary. Where this does not occur, the scheduling conference takes much longer than it would otherwise, but it still covers all the issues needed to address the deadlines contained in the scheduling order.

Please let me know if you need any further clarification. Also, as a reminder to all parties in this docket, please "reply all" when communicating to the ALJ. That way all parties are privy to the communication(s) taking place and thereby avoiding any appearance of ex parte communication.

Thank you.

Judge Reif,

Can you explain what the scheduling conference will entail? Is it just to get a feel for the time needed to be set aside for the official hearing?

We're in the process of contacting all neighbors who will be present, but anticipate that either time will be acceptable for us.

Parties:

The Commission will be scheduling a Scheduling Conference in this matter for next Tuesday, November 26, 2013. The Commission's calendar can accommodate a 9:00 a.m. morning or 1:30 p.m. afternoon meeting time, and anyone who is not able to attend personally will have the opportunity to join in by telephone. If you have a conflict with either of these times, please propose an alternate time that is acceptable to all other parties by Noon today. If it is necessary for parties to discuss an alternate time, please communicate among yourselves and then "reply all" to this message so all parties are informed.

The Commission anticipates issuing a Notice of Scheduling Conference by the end of the business day today. Thank you.
