

- BEFORE THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF UTAH -

Investigation into Possible Amendment of Utah Admin. Code R746-312, Electrical
Interconnection

DOCKET NO. 23-R312-01

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO SUBMIT
PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO RULE AND
COMMENT PERIOD

ISSUED: April 3, 2024

The Public Service Commission (PSC) initiated this docket on September 8, 2023, issuing a Notice and Request for Comments and soliciting stakeholder input as to whether Utah Admin. Code R746-312 (the "Rule") should be amended to reflect the current (2018) IEEE 1547 interconnection standard. After receiving initial stakeholder comments, the PSC held a scheduling conference on January 4, 2024, which resulted in a technical conference on March 12, 2024.

At the technical conference, Rocky Mountain Power offered a presentation addressing issues stakeholders had expressed interest in exploring, and the Interstate Renewable Energy Council also gave a presentation on issues it believes to be pertinent to any potential amendment of the Rule.

In light of stakeholders' filed written comments and the presentations heard at the technical conference, the PSC believes the next appropriate step is to invite stakeholders to submit proposed amendments to the Rule.

Accordingly, the PSC gives notice that any interested person may submit proposed amendments to the Rule on or before Monday, May 13, 2024. Stakeholders may submit written responses to these proposed amendments on or before Wednesday, June 12, 2024, and may submit replies to such responses on or before Thursday, June 27, 2024. The PSC encourages stakeholders to include in their submissions actual proposed language for the amended Rule, as opposed to suggestions as to what an amendment should accomplish, along with any arguments or information they believe support the PSC's adoption of their proposed language.

DATED at Salt Lake City, Utah, April 3, 2024.
