Hi Sara, I can't tell you how nice it is to finally know how this process actually works! I relayed all the information to Marty Pollack and he is of the same mind. We have been flying by the seats of our pants for so long this will be quite a relief. Thank you so much for your timely response and update. Do you have the Joint Pde Notice as a document you can email to me? That way you wouldn't have to decipher our writing. Anyway, you have our undying gratitude. Sheryl

Sheryl,

I found the documentation to support the fact that AT&T has permission to attach within 1 business day of making application for those attachments: The attachments are to be made in compliance with the NESC and PacifiCorp codes and subject to fee if any violations are created.

I will fax you over the section of your contract which states that. (much more eloquently than I can!).

Please let me know if you have any questions ;-}
