The way Rocky Mountain Power is going about putting in their new high-voltage power line in Box Elder County is all wrong. Rather than using existing utility corridors in our county, they have chosen the easy route for them, not caring about the devastating impact they will have on our city, community and families.

Tremonton City will be losing half of the new industrial park they recently built. My neighbors, Charlie and Lisa Smith, will be losing their home and will be forced to uproot their family. Another neighbor, Marvin Ashby, will be losing his barn. Yet, there are sagebrush-covered slopes less than a mile away. Why did Rocky Mountain Power choose to go over existing residences and industries?

Existing utility corridors should be used. Please listen to the populace of our county and give us your backing in protecting our homes and lives.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Smith
