Considering that some of the Company's scenarios show lower cost for the SCR option and others show the gas conversion option is lower in cost, how does the Company recommend the Commission decide the outcome of this case? How should the Commission weigh the alternative scenarios in making its final decision? Explain the weight the Company assigns to each of the alternatives scenarios is presented in this case.

Response to OCS Data Request 1.115

The Company has not assigned weighting to each of the alternatives presented in the application. Rather the Company has provided analyses of a range of input assumptions to provide the Commission with a range of information from which to make their determination. Based upon the current political landscape and market conditions, certain scenarios are less likely to be realized within the analysis period than others.
