

surcharge

1 message

---

Brad Hodgin <bhodgin@scinternet.net>

Tue, Jul 8, 2014 at 7:22 PM

To: psc@utah.gov

The very idea of charging for sunlight is so out of control it almost seems to be impossible. What are corporations going to be able to charge for next, not using credit cards, not using natural gas? not using cell phones? I use none of these and have expanded my solar power system to help cut MY costs from rocky mtn power, and now these people want to make damn sure that they get a piece of my investment even though they paid me nothing for it. I will cut my grid connection if these greedy corpatists get their way and they will get nothing from me. Bradley R. Hodgin po box 783 Enterprise UT 84725