Commissioners Allen, Clark, and Levar:

In one of the newspaper articles on net metering published this week, a statement was attributed to me regarding the authority of the Commission. That statement reflected a misunderstanding on the part of the reporter and did not accurately reflect my statements. Please be assured that any position of the Office or myself regarding Commission authority has been presented in testimony and within the Office's formal case. It is never my intention to introduce new or inconsistent positions via the news media.
