Dear Commissioners:

I can't believe I have to write this letter.

You have to look at the costs and benefits of solar panels from all aspects, because the public is paying all the costs which industry tries so hard to externalize.

Even if RMP benefits from the fact that solar electricity is fed into the grid almost exactly when demand is highest, there is a great danger that they downplay these benefits and exaggerate their costs.

It is your job to see through this.

If RMP tells you which criteria should be used, then you cannot do this job.

I hope that my voice, along with many others in the community, gives you the support to stand up to the arrogant attempt of a private business to override the public interest.
