To Whom It May Concern:

I do not have solar panels on my roof, but I do pay extra on my utility bill to Rocky Mountain Power every month to support the Blue Sky program. In our local paper, The Times Independent, Mr. Paul Murphy from Rocky Mountain Power said the proposed increase was because of fairness that "if you are using the grid you should pay for the grid". I would be willing to pay even more to encourage the use of solar. With all the air pollution our state deals with we should be doing everything possible to move to less polluting sources of energy. Solar production could be an economic boom for Utah if we do everything to make it welcome and feasible in our state. Please reject Rocky Mountain's proposal when it is considered again in August.

Thank you for your time and assistance.
