

PublicService Commission <psc@utah.gov>

RMP rate increase and solar compensation

1 message

claytonhipps@gmail.com <claytonhipps@gmail.com>

Sun, Feb 9, 2020 at 12:32 PM

To: psc@utah.gov

RMP is scheduled to have a hearing on a rate increase in Utah this week. I find this distasteful and monopolistic. Not only did their parent company show a 1.1 billion dollar profit last quarter they do not need to increase their rates if for the last 9 months they have shown a 4.4 billion dollar profit. I understand this is pacificcorp and not RMP, but I pay my bill to pacificcorp not RMP so therefore I am against the increase in my rates.

Additionally as a partial solar customer I am against the reduction for future solar customers that RMP has proposed it is just another attempt by RMP to keep their monopoly over power production. The continued fight against solar is costing pacificcorp more in lobbying than the total they have lost to the minuscule residential solar producers in Utah. Please do not cave in to RMP and do the job that the utilities commission was set up for and provide oversight and most importantly protect the consumer not the power company they are doing well financially and don't need my 1k dollars a year I would pay without solar and they don't need more than that no matter what they are arguing they have plenty of money.

Clayton Phipps