Margaret "Marnie" Armstrong Craig

1953 - 2024

Salt Lake City, UT—Margaret Joan "Marnie" Armstrong Craig passed away June 7, 2024, after a year-long battle with CJD despite the many challenges she faced with this disease. True to her nature, she never complained and remained light-hearted, funny, compassionate, and strong.

Born April 6, 1953, to Ben F. Armstrong, she enjoyed growing up in Federal Heights where she and sister Margaret (Beth) and brother John were the youngest of their parents' children. She attended Westcott Elementary, Bryant Junior High, and graduated from Salt Lake High School in 1971. Margaret graduated Summa Cum Laude from the University of Utah with a degree in Education and spent a period of her time at the U studying and working as a nursing intern. After graduating, she moved to Haley, Idaho where she enjoyed teaching junior high and high school and developed a lifelong love for the Ketchum-Sun Valley area.

She returned to Salt Lake City and began her 40+ year career at Valley High School and completed her Master's Degree in Special Education at the University of Utah. Margaret was very proud of her time at Valley High School and the curriculum she taught, where she integrated passion for music and used it as a tool for teaching History and English. Her kind and caring nature endeared her to her students, and the personal investment she made in each and every one of them made a lasting impact on her lives.

She met the love of her life and husband, Daniel Boone Craig, in 1975 and together they enjoyed their Precinct Canyon where they built a beautiful life and home together. They became an integral part of this community where Margaret will be remembered for her remarkable positive impact she had on the community.

Margaret showed fun, kindness, and intellect which drew many people into her life. One of the most special parts of her life was raising her children, including her Precinct Canyon children, where she and her beloved Rudy and Mary Ann were the parents of three children.
