Dear Commissioners -

I want to thank you for protecting Utah costumers from the exorbitant rate hike proposed by RMP last year. As. you know many Utahns are having trouble already paying their electric bill. I recently attended an Interim session at the capitol and was made aware that back in 2023 there was an account to help Utahs with their power bills, and that is longer available. Now more than ever the public is needing help.

I also appreciate that you are insisting that that RMP look into more clean energy alternatives in its IRP plans for our future. I oppose the Nuclear plans that are very expensive and subject the state to potential harms now and in the future, without any energy produced for 7 years. I support Geothermal. I have visited the FERVO site in Milford which Tony knowledge is up and running in 3 years, producing a much cleaner product. From what I understand Utah is ideal for more geothermal plants. Please continue to hold the line with RMP who appears to care nothing about Utahns health and only their profits.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Kair

Hello -

as a long-term customer I am deeply concerned by the rate hike that RMP is proposing to cover wildfire liability. Not because I don't think it's reasonable, but because this is yet another fee on the customers, instead of the shareholders. And because RMP has not been accelerating a move towards renewable energies, especially solar - which is the most cost-effective option. They still focus on coal, which will further increase climate change and wildfire risk. Subsidizing coal to fight wildfires is absolutely counter-intuitive and should not be done.

Please provide this feedback and disapprove of the rate increase.

Thank you,

Neli Ulrich
