SUBJECT:

I just purchased a 09 NEW Honda CNG car hoping to help out on the oil prices and now find out that it was no advantage at all to wait for 6 months first of all to buy one! Pay way more than compareable reg gas car and, then have the prices almost double within the next 6 months! What is the motive for people to purchase these vehicles with the hassels that come with them as in finding stations to fill up and the very limited range they have!! We need to keep the prices down to keep the morale up and keep the air clean as well!! Thanks
