DOCKET NO. 17-057-20

Pass-Through Application of Dominion Energy Utah for an Adjustment in Rates and Charges for Natural Gas Service in Utah

DOCKET NO. 18-057-04

ORDER SETTING FINAL RATES

ISSUED: July 26, 2021

BACKGROUND

A. Docket No. 17-057-20

On October 2, 2017, Dominion Energy Utah (DEU), filed a 191 Pass-Through Account (191-Account) application in Docket No. 17-057-20, requesting an annualized gas cost-related rate increase of $24.57 million, consisting of a $22.47 million increase in commodity costs and an increase of $2.10 million in supplier non-gas (SNG) costs, for the test year 12 months ending October 31, 2018. In its order confirming bench ruling issued November 16, 2017, the Public Service Commission (PSC) approved this application on an interim basis, effective November 1, 2017, pending the completion of an audit by the Division of Public Utilities (DPU).

B. Docket No. 18-057-04

On May 1, 2018, DEU filed a 191-Account application in Docket No. 18-057-04 requesting an annualized gas cost-related rate decrease of $82.77 million, consisting of an $83.81 million decrease in commodity costs and an increase of $1.04 million in SNG costs, for the test year 12 months ending May 31, 2019. In its order confirming bench ruling issued June 1, 2018, the PSC approved the application on an interim basis, effective June 1, 2018, pending the completion of an audit by the DPU.

DISCUSSION, FINDINGS, AND CONCLUSIONS

A. DEU Tariff PSCU No. 500

DEU Tariff PSCU No. 500, Section 2.06, provides for pass-through applications to be filed “[n]o less frequently than semi-annually.” DEU’s 191-Account application requests, therefore, reflect overlapping test years, resulting in interim rates that are reset at least every six months. For example, the test year in Docket No. 17-057-20 includes the November 1, 2017 through October 31, 2018 period, and the test year in Docket No. 18-057-04 includes the June 1, 2018 through May 31, 2019 period. The dockets’ test years overlap beginning June 1, 2018 through October 31, 2018. This necessarily requires us to review and set final rates in the dockets for periods that are shorter than those we approved when we set interim rates. Our order here includes our decisions on final rates only for the 1) November 1, 2017 through May 31, 2018 period costs in Docket No. 17-057-20 (“Review Period A”), and 2) June 1, 2018 through October 31, 2018 period costs in Docket No. 18-057-04 (“Review Period B”).

B. The DPU’s Audits in Docket Nos. 17-057-20 and 18-057-04

The evaluation for November and December 2017 costs in Review Period A is included in a June 25, 2020 DPU memorandum with attachments, which represents DPU’s completed audit of DEU’s 191-Account for calendar year (CY) 2017 filed in Docket No. 17-057-07 (“2017 Audit”), and the evaluation for January through May 2018 costs in Review Period A is included in a April 27, 2021 DPU memorandum with attachments, which represents DPU’s completed audit of DEU’s 191-Account for CY 2018 filed in Docket No. 17-057-20 (“2018 Audit”). The evaluation for June through October 2018 costs in Review Period B is included in the 2018 Audit. Both the 2017 Audit and 2018 Audit are very similar and include a Summary of 191

Account Audit Procedures and Results for CY 2017 and CY 2018, respectively. In DPU's Summary of 191 Account Audit Procedures and Results for CY 2017 and CY 2018 it reports finding "minor immaterial exceptions" when recalculating Utah Commodity percentages.¹ In addition, the 2017 Audit and 2018 Audit include confidential exhibits that detail the 2017 and 2018 hydrocarbon monitor annual reports, and the 2017 and 2018 independent accountant monitor report of the Wexpro Agreement, respectively. Based on the 2017 Audit and the 2018 Audit, DPU recommends the PSC make interim rates for Review Period A and Review Period B final, without any adjustments. On May 19, 2021, DEU filed comments acknowledging that DPU's Audit Report found immaterial discrepancies and states that the discrepancies found are not material enough to change the interim rate that was previously approved by the PSC. Therefore, DEU recommends the PSC adopt DPU's recommendation.

The 2017 Audit and 2018 Audit present detailed reviews of the various cost elements included in the 191-Account, with the exception of those costs incurred under the Wexpro Stipulation and Agreement and the Wexpro II Agreement ("Wexpro Agreement"). The costs incurred under the Wexpro Agreement are currently examined and reported upon by an independent certified public accountant appointed as a Monitor.

DPU provides a detailed explanation of the processes it followed to evaluate the reasonableness and accuracy of the information included in DEU's original filings. The audit procedures evaluated Utah's allocation of net costs (costs offset by revenues) included in the 191-Account by recalculating the monthly 191-Account balances, applying carrying charges to the balances rolling forward, and accounting for adjustments. The 2017 Audit and 2018 Audit conclude the costs included in the 191-Account comply with PSC-approved calculations and are just, reasonable, and in the public interest.

We find the procedures used by DPU to evaluate DEU's records are sufficiently rigorous. Based on our review of DEU's original filings, the 2017 Audit and the 2018 Audit, the reasons provided in DPU's comments in each of the memorandums we referenced earlier in our Order, and in the absence of any opposition, we accept and adopt DPU's recommendation. Similarly, and based on reasons set forth above, we find the previously-ordered interim rates for Review Period A in Docket No. 17-057-20 and for Review Period B in Docket No. 18-057-04 are just, reasonable, and in the public interest. Accordingly, we approve the interim rates for Review Period A in Docket No. 17-057-20 and the interim rates for Review Period B in Docket No. 18-057-04 as final.

ORDER

The interim rate changes previously ordered by the PSC for Review Period A in Docket No. 17-057-20 and for Review Period B in Docket No. 18-057-04 are final.
