Subject: PSC RULE CHANGES

To whom it may concern,
As you contemplate making rule changes, please know that the following considerations are vitally important to myself and Utah rate payers:

Ratepayers voices must be heard in utility regulation.

Presently, the Division of Public Utilities and Committee of Consumer Services aren't representing consumers' interests effectively.

Any rule amendments you do make should facilitate the participation of individual customers and groups and not impede them.

If the Commission decides each participating individual or group must be represented by an attorney, either the Commission or the utility should pay those costs.

Best regards,

Nathan Ball
