That is what I vote for – Option 1. Total area code split.
Thanks for the explanation.

If the split is chosen then Salt Lake County would retain the 801 area code and Utah county and points north of Salt Lake County - which currently have the 801 area code - would change to 385.

Option 1, Total area code split.
If I understand correctly, only Salt Lake City is going to have (801) for their area code, and all other cities around Salt Lake, that has (801) area code now, will have the new (385) area code. Is this right?

Give me a little bit more detail, which option (split or overlay) are referring to when you say "option 1"?
