

From: Richard Christensen
To: <mlivingston@utah.gov>
Date: 4/5/2008 11:33 PM
Subject: New area code changes

Apparently the Public Utilities have made it virtually impossible to address public input regarding the proposed area code changes. This is a travesty. Why on earth was it approved without receiving public input?

The question I have is why not keep the 801 code exclusively in Salt Lake County, and change outlining areas to the new 385 area code? That would keep to a plan that other communities in other states have followed, and wouldn't require 10 digit dialing for calls within the same county. Why not county wide area codes? This is going to be really inconvenient.

Sincerely,

Richard Christensen