Dear Mr. Hommes,

I appreciate your email regarding the concerns you have with your utility bill with Rocky Mountain Power. When a utility such as Rocky Mountain Power seeks a rate change, the Public Service Commission (Commission) conducts hearings and investigations to determine that rates are just, reliable and reasonable.

Public input is a key component for the Commission in making decisions on such important matters. Activities that pertain to Rocky Mountain Power and other public utility providers are found on www.psc.utah.gov. You may also monitor cases through the "Watch this Docket" option available on the Commission's website. You will then be notified by email when orders regarding the proceeding are issued by the Commission and when parties to the case have submitted written comments. Furthermore, you are welcome to contact us at 801-530-6716 with questions.

Thank you for taking time in contacting us and discussing your questions and concerns.

Sincerely,

Gary Widerburg
Commission Secretary
