The parties shall file a list of the issues they believe the Commission should consider in these proceedings no later than August 19, 2009. The list is not a conclusive list of every issue that may be ultimately raised after complete discovery and previous to any hearing in this matter. As discussed at the scheduling conference, the issues will likely be defined or enlarged as discovery proceeds. Initially, however, this will provide a basis upon which the parties may begin to define the scope of discovery.
