SCHEDULE NO. 6- "FRILL" SERVICE CHARGES (T)

This schedule covers rates to be charged for various types of "Frill", or customer convenience services, such as (T) "long cords", "speakerphones", and any and all types of equipment or services which are above and beyond the basic standard telephone service with either wall or desk telephones, and or extension phones, with the exception to specific equipments for which separate schedules of rates and charges are established.

1. Charges for such services shall be computed by taking the Company book cost of materials and labor to provide such extra service, and dividing such costs by 12. This shall be the monthly charge to the customer, such charge to be rounded to the even nickel lower than the divided cost where such cost is at an odd figure above a divisor of 5.
2. It is recognized that such charges could produce higher than usual profits over a period of years, but these special type equipment and services will also be small and entail higher than normal costs to provide.
