Mr. and Mrs. Menlove,

Thank you for your below email. As a reminder, please recall that you should submit anything related to this complaint to psc@utah.gov and to all parties, including Bridgerland.

As to your first question, any review or rehearing would be conducted like your original complaint was addressed, i.e., I would be involved along with the Commissioners.

As to your second and third questions, I cannot provide you legal advice but, to the extent they can be addressed without providing such advice, I can generally say that any review or rehearing addresses only facts that were specifically raised and addressed in the record leading to and in the order issued on November 8, 2023. I can also direct you to the statutes cited in that order's "Notice of Opportunity for Agency Review or Rehearing" page and Utah Administrative Code R746-1-801.

Thank you,

John Delaney

Mr Delaney,

We have received and reviewed the findings and conclusions from our hearing.

In considering whether or not to file for a formal review or rehearing, we do have a few questions concerning such a review or rehearing of our complaint. if it would be appropriate, could you please reply to the following questions:

1. Who would be the individual responsible for conducting the review or rehearing?
2. Would we be allowed to provide additional comments concerning the findings and conclusions where we believe errors may have occurred?

3. Would we be allowed to provide evidence that we believe may shed additional light on testimonies provided by Bridgerland Water Company in the initial hearing?

Thanks again for your time and effort on behalf of our complaint. We look forward to hearing from you concerning these questions as soon as possible so that we can make a decision concerning filing for a review or rehearing.

Sincerely,
Martell and Ronda Menlove
